

press release

Fun in the sand pit at PAWRS

Dennis Eagle had fun in the sand pit at the PAWRS, but it's not castles they were building. Instead, the team commissioned a replica refuse collection vehicle sculpture made entirely from sand.

Over four tonnes of sand was used to build the creation. Once complete, the sand vehicle took pride of place on the Dennis Eagle stand alongside the company's mobile exhibition unit and Olympus Duo.

Commercial manager David Williams comments: "There may not have been much sun this year, but there was certainly sea and sand so we took this opportunity to show a very different exhibit on the stand with our sand sculpture. Although it was somewhat smaller than our regular vehicles, there is no doubt that the time, effort and craftsmanship that went into creating this exhibit echoes the work that takes place at our manufacturing sites, where all our products are built by hand with the utmost care and attention to detail.

"Along with some excellent networking opportunities PAWRS provides an ideal platform for showcasing our latest products and technologies and highlighting our commitment to driving forward the waste, recycling and sustainability agenda. This year was no exception and we would like to thank all those who took the time to come and visit us."

ends

(209 words)

m/f...

2/...

Caption: The replica Dennis Eagle refuse collection vehicle was created using over four tonnes of sand

For further editorial information contact Tonic Public Relations:

- Catherine Milner: Tel: 01527 834648 Mobile: 07870 385514
Email: catherine@tonicpublicrelations.co.uk
- Sharon Kerby: Tel: 01527 834646
Email: sharon@tonicpublicrelations.co.uk